- Laugh a little. Love a lot.
- Live on island time.
- Forget about work for a while.
- Enjoy just being with people you love.
- Sleep in.
- Watch the sun rise from the top deck (or while still laying in bed.)
- Sip morning coffee overlooking the back garden.
- Go for a beach walk.
- Choose the day's flag from the flag locker and fly it proudly.
- Kayak or paddleboard to the inner reef on a calm morning. Bring a mask along.
- Sneak away for a mid-day dip in the ocean.
- Strum the guitar or ukulele while laying on the couch.
- Learn to play the steel drum.
- Relax in a chaise lounge and enjoy the breeze.
- Nap in a hammock.
- Read a good book.
- Pause and appreciate the view.
- Birdwatch in the back garden or from the decks.
- Experience an outdoor shower.
- Soak up sunshine and sea air.
- Become one with your beach chair. "Only worry in the world is the tide gonna reach my chair..."
- Conquer the Beach Games Pentathlon (Cornhole, Kan-Jam, Spikeball, Ladder Toss, Bocce)
- Fish from the beach.
- Cook together. Everyone lends a hand.
- Grill the "catch of the day" or make fresh conch fritters.
- Imbibe in sunset happy hour and appetizers on the back deck.
- Make dessert every day.
- Enjoy outdoor meals with family and friends on the top deck.
- Invite new friends to visit.
- Share stories and good conversation on the top deck after dinner. Or any time of day.
- Answer burning questions like, "What's your favorite Jimmy Buffett song?"
- Recount today's adventures and make plans for tomorrow.
- Perfect your skills at the Bahamas Ring-and-String and the Beach Happy Ball-Slide games.
- Paint a hometown sign to leave behind.
- Spend time on something you love but don't do enough of at home (paint, draw, write, etc.)
- Play board games on the dining room table.
- Gather for movie night in the bunkroom.
- Watch NASA nighttime launches from the top deck. Look to the northwest.
- Stargaze and count falling stars from the beach at night.
- Fall asleep with the doors open and listen to the waves on a breezy night.
- Don't worry... Beach Happy.
